BEAT ALL THE BOATS

The Fuerst Bismark Breaks All Ocean Records.

FROM SOUTHAMPTON IN SIX DAYS.

Three Persons Lose Their Life by the Sinking of the Steamship Francisco Near Frankfort Early This Morning—Stanley Mobbed.

FRANKFORT, May 16.—[Special]—Three persons met a watery grave this morning by the sinking of the steamship Francisco. The steamship has a large number of passengers aboard, but all but three were rescued.

LONDON, May 16.—[Special]—Socialists almost mobbed Henry M. Stanley after his lecture last evening at Sheffield. The timely appearance of the police saved the explorer from personal violence.

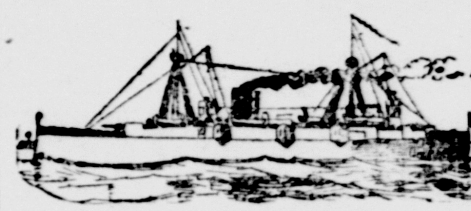

NEW YORK, May 16.—[Special]—The steamship record has been broken and the Eutawia is no longer the "Queen of the deep." The new Fuerst Bismark, a German steamer, arrived this morning from Southampton, in six days and fourteen hours, beating all previous vessels. A mighty cheer went up from the throats of the passengers, as the new "greyhound" came in, and it was announced that all runs had been expedited. It was the steamer's main trip, and faster time yet is expected.

IS THE ITATA SAFE.

The War Department Knows Nothing of Her Capture.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—[Special]—3 p. m.—The war department knows nothing of the capture of the Itata.

CITY OF MEXICO, May 16.—It is reported here that the Charleston has come up with the Itata and captured her off the coast of Jalisco and is now steaming north with her prize. No mention is made, however, of the Esmeralda in connection with the rumor. The Esmeralda left Acapulco Thursday night, promising to return in one or two days. It is supposed she left to find the Itata before the latter entered any Mexican port, so that in case of the Charleston coming in they would be on their way south before the Charleston had any knowledge of their whereabouts. The Esmeralda evidently intended lying in Acapulco until the Itata arrived, but information of the Charleston's pursuit caused her departure. The reason, it is believed, that the Esmeralda will return is because she may not succeed in finding the Itata before the latter reaches Acapulco, as it has been reported that they should meet here.

News just received here at 10 p. m. states that the Esmeralda is in sight of Acapulco, accompanied by two unknown steamers. The war department is closed, but it is learned that the Mexican government will remain neutral. The Americans here are very much excited over a possible engagement having taken place. It will be impossible to get any further information until the vessels come in.

ACAPULCO, May 16.—A number of telegrams addressed to the U. S. cruiser Charleston have been received, and from that fact it is presumed that that vessel has orders to stop here. The Esmeralda is said to be anchored off shore 15 miles south of here. She could not obtain coal or munitions here, but was allowed to take water and provisions.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—A cable dispatch was received Friday from Admiral Brown, now on the San Francisco, which is at some Chilean port. Information as to the contents of the dispatch was refused at the department further than that it was an answer from Admiral Brown to the instructions issued him last week. This is an indication that even in the event of failure of the Charleston to catch the Itata the latter vessel will not have escaped all danger and will still have to run the gantlet of the United States vessels now on the Chilean coast. Up to the close of business hours at the department no advices had been received of the Charleston or the Itata.

Mr. Blaine's Illness.

NEW YORK, May 16.—Mr. Blaine, at last reports, was much better and his physician, Dr. Dennis, said he did not consider his condition critical. It was learned at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Walter Damrosch, Friday that Secretary Blaine passed an uncomfortable night, at times suffering great pain. During the day he rested much easier. Mrs. Blaine has been in attendance at her husband's bedside. Dr. Dennis says that Mr. Blaine is suffering from one of his attacks of gout, which aggravates matters considerably. Dr. Dennis was not at all alarmed by this new phase of Mr. Blaine's illness, but advised strongly against leaving here until some day next week.

HAS NO END OF MEN.

So Trainmaster Moulton, of the C. & N. W., Declares.

YARDMEN EXPECT A SETTLEMENT.

The Janesville Union Represented at the Chicago Meeting of the Supreme Council, and an Answer Expected in the Yards by Monday.

There were no developments in the switchmen's situation today. Everything is moving on the road and trains are sent out without delay. This is largely owing to the fact that the men who are now doing the switching are old hands or conductors who have had experience in the work.

The men who were discharged are quiet and are taking a common sense view of the situation, and are peacefully awaiting the outcome.

"We do not care as long as trainmen are doing the switching," said one of the men this morning. It is simply a fight between the two organizations—the switchmen and the trainmen. Of course we do not blame the trainmen for switching, because they are fighting us. But we, of course, do not like to see outsiders taking our places. I think the trouble will be settled to-morrow. A meeting of the supreme council is being held today when the matter will be talked over, and some conclusion reached. Mr. Heene is now in Chicago as a representative of the Janesville Union."

According to the Chicago Tribune, the Northwestern authorities have been in Janesville asking the old switchmen to return to work. Grand Master Workman Sweeney said to a Tribune reporter: "Delegates who have reached us report that the company has beseeched the old switchmen at Janesville and Fort Howard to return to work, despite the statements handed out to the contrary by the press bureau of the Northwestern railroad."

Trainmaster F. R. Moulton was seen this morning and said that every thing was moving smoothly. "The only trouble we are having," he said, "is that we have more men than we know what to do with. There has been no trouble anywhere along the line, and full forces are working at all the stations."

"Have you had any trouble on account of St. Paul switchmen, who belong to the union, refusing to handle transferred Northwestern cars?"

"No, sir; we have had no trouble whatever."

Conductor Fred Keating was switching on the north end engine yesterday. Many people were led to believe today that Keating was one of the former switchmen having gotten the names of Will and Fred mixed. Will was a former switchman and has not returned to work. Fred was working yesterday, but was not on duty today.

"I do not anticipate any trouble with any men on account of their refusing to handle Northwestern cars that are transferred to our line," said yardmaster, T. H. Bidwell, of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road this morning. "They have told me that they will handle all cars, and in case they do not I will handle them myself. Northwestern cars will roll over the St. Paul tracks just the same."

Important results are expected from the meeting of the supreme council of the United Order of Railway Employees which will convene in the Grand Pacific hotel to-day to consider the action of the Northwestern Railroad Company in discharging all the switchmen in its employ. If the council decides to support the switchmen a general strike will probably ensue, which might possibly spread to the other roads, causing a tie-up similar to that which occurred in 1881. The impression prevails, however, that the council is not by any means agreed as to the course that should be taken, and that nothing definite will be done for a few days at least.

all the members of the council who will meet in the Grand Pacific are as follows: Switchmen—Frank Sweeney, J. M. Downey, Miles W. Barrett. Firemen—Frank P. Sargent, Eugene Debbis, John Hanahan. Conductors—George W. Howard, John W. Martin, D. J. Carr, S. Trueman, E. Wilkinson, W. A. Sheahan and P. W. Morrison.

With this body rests the power to order a general strike of all train hands, with the exception of locomotive engineers, who belong to a separate organization. In order to be able to present a complete case to the council Grand Master Frank Sweeney and Vice President J. M. Downey, of the Switchmen's Mutual Aid association, called on General Manager Whitman Friday and inquired what reasons the company had in ordering the wholesale dismissal of members of the switchmen's union. Mr. Whitman referred them to the published statements of the company and then brought the interview to an end by asking the delegates to put whatever complaints they had to make in writing and send them to the company, which would consider them. The indications are that this will not be done, the men having an idea that the next overtures that are made will first come from the representatives of the road.

The headquarters of the switchmen were thronged all day with switchmen from outside points who had come in to consult with the officials. No disappointment was experienced at the seemingly easy victory of the company, but, on the contrary, it was asserted that the fight had barely passed the initial stage and that the real struggle lay yet to come.

Excitement runs high among the members of the brotherhood and strong feeling prevails that the action of the trainmen consenting to do the work of the switchmen will be condemned by the supreme council.

The officials of the various roads centering in this city seem to have no fears that the trouble between the Chicago & Northwestern and its switchmen will lead to a strike on other roads. They all sympathize with the Northwestern and none of them will hesitate a moment to handle Northwestern business if the switchmen should demand that they decline to do so.

THE DODGE LAW DENOUNCED.

Catholic papers about the state are denouncing the Dodge law in unmeasured terms. The Milwaukee Columbia, a leading German organ, begins a column arraignment of the law with the words: "By its passage the last legislature committed a stupendously stupid and asinine blunder. The idea of such a law could only emanate from the brain of a crank who is an enemy of religion, in whom the cynical saying of the 'great stomach of the church' or the 'evil of the dead hand' has become a fixed idea, and who accordingly sees in every priest or priest of charity at the bedside of a dying person a legacy-hunter. That there was any necessity for the passage of such a law has never been claimed until now by even the most bitter enemy of the church in Wisconsin. On the other hand it is easy to see that the law is equally as unjust and oppressive as unnecessary."

Those who object to the that law point to its attitude against the church as proof of their assertions. "It provides that any person on his or her death-bed may leave his or her property to any person or for any purpose, except a religious or charitable institution," says the Columbia. "Could anything than idiotic hatred of the church have inspired such a provision? Certainly not, and the subterfuge that a similar law is in existence in New York does not change it in the least."

The Columbia goes on to excuse the democrats for passing the law, which was introduced by a democrat, passed by a legislature, both branches of which are democratic, and signed by a democratic governor. It intimates that it may have been inspired and worked through by some astute republicans, who have used cranks and enemies of the church as their tools to set a trap for innocent democrats; but admits that men like Judge Pinney and Assemblyman Dodge do not fall into republican traps with alarming frequency. The "republican decoy" plea will hardly stand when such veteran wire-pullers are among the bill's supporters.

GIVES THE PRESIDENT CREDIT.

A strong showing for President Harrison is made by Frank Leslie's Weekly, in its editorial review of the first two years of the administration. The fact is pointed out that President Harrison entrusted the state portfolio to one of the keenest and most popular of American statesmen. There was thus at the outset of the administration a combination of two powerful intellects—the one impetuous, vigorous, alert, and strategic, the other calm, patient, thoughtful, and discerning. Continuing, the writer says:

While the eloquent voice of Mr. Blaine has been heard in favor of reciprocity it was the masterly judgment of the president himself that led to formulation of the act of congress giving him the power to secure reciprocal trade relations. It was the president himself who dictated the prompt and powerful letter to the governor of Louisiana protesting against the New Orleans outbreak. It was his admonition and sagacious counsel that prevailed at a critical moment when a few silver kings in congress threatened to jeopardize the credit of the country. It was President Harrison who opened the way for a material increase in the coinage of silver. It was President Harrison who earnestly and courageously espoused the cause of protection and hastened the passage of the McKinley bill. Though there has been no beating of gongs to attract attention, he has been the real inspiring leader of his party.

Editor Coe, of Whitewater, read the Milwaukee Journal's assertion, "The democratic party founded the public school system, and will maintain it," about as long as he cared to. He sat down the other day and outlined with a piece of chalk the query: "Will the Milwaukee Journal please tell when and where the democratic party founded the public school system?" Then he marked it "wt f." That, as every one knows, means, "run weekly until forbidden," and the query has since then occupied a prominent place in the Whitewater Register's columns. But the answer has not yet come.

If they decide to sustain whimsical Prof. Briggs, or if they resolve not to inquire as to his teachings, they will forfeit the public confidence and turn the Seminary into a Bible-chopping, faith-altering Synagogue of Satan.—New York Mail and Express.

The Presbyterian controversy has stirred up much bitter talk, but just to think that Good Colonel Elliott F. Shepard, of the Express, should use such language!

The progress of reciprocity confounds those who have persistently declared that it was impracticable. Spain, Brazil, Venezuela, Guatemala and San Domingo have entered into agreements with the United States. Canada, Guiana, Trinidad, Barbadoes and Newfoundland desire to make reciprocity agreements. Such a record of success in half a year with a policy confronted by many difficulties, ought to silence the most inveterate opponents of the administration.

SOME WELL KNOWN FACES.

ON THE ARCTIC CIRCLE.

Adventures of an Englishman in the Frozen Regions of North America. Washburn Pike, an English explorer, has returned from the Arctic circle. Leaving Calgary in June, 1889, Mr. Pike proceeded to Athabasca Landing, and from there to Fort Resolution, on Slave river. Here he secured the services of two Indian guides and helpers and started for the barren lands in search of musk ox, caribou and other large game. He had a very successful hunt, killing about forty musk ox and as many caribou as they were in position to handle. On that trip Mr. Pike went as far north as Fish River, this being the river on which Franklin's first expedition to the north pole was lost. He experienced many adventures. The party was lost for fourteen days and endured terrible sufferings. They started to cross the Yukon range of mountains to the Pacific coast. After journeying for some twelve days they found that instead of being, as they supposed, on McLeod river, they were on what afterward turned out to be the Nation. Here the guides admitted they were lost, and nothing remained for the party to do but retrace their steps, which they did with but enough provisions for a few days. In two days they were out of food, and to make a long story short, they starved for fourteen days.

Mr. Pike absolutely refuses to say anything of their tortures during the time, but many facts were gleaned from those who saw them on their return to the rapids, and were compelled to feed them as they would a baby. As an example of the terrible state of affairs, some hundreds of miles were tramped with bare feet on ice, and their frozen condition when rescued was simply terrible, while some of the party were so reduced from cold and hunger as to be totally helpless.

When asked to describe the barren lands Mr. Pike said that it was an immense tract of barren rock on which grew a kind of moss and shrub, on which deer and thousands of caribou deer, the latter taking to the woods in winter. Mr. Pike is the only white man who has ever trod the path of the Franklin sufferers on the Fish river. Travel during this trip was almost entirely done on foot, dog trains being used for the carrying of provisions and wood. The currency is in skins. A skin is valued at fifty cents.—Cor. Philadelphia Press.

An English Sea Crab. "I have a curiosity here," remarked a down town restaurateur, "the first of the kind seen in this country for a long time," pointing to a red backed non-descript that looked like a cross between a lobster and a Gulf crab. The shell was ten inches long, the claws black at the tips, and large enough to hold in a vise a quarter of lamb. "I was passing up Park row the other day when my attention was drawn to a sailor who was offering this fellow for three dollars to a crowd that had gathered around him. The sailor said he had brought it from Liverpool, as no doubt he had. It is an English sea crab, found only in deep water in or near the English channel."

"Only once in a great while does one get so far from home as New York. This one is little more than a baby, for it weighs but eight pounds. The average for full grown crabs is at least double that. I had not had this fellow a day when an English customer of mine offered me twenty dollars for it, with the privilege of keeping it on exhibition until he called for it. A choice company of his friends will get a rare crab salad treat from it Sunday afternoon."—New York Times.

Evarts Would Wait. A good story about Senators Evarts and Hoar has just come out, rather late, but not too late to bear repetition. They were both members of the senate committee on the library. Mr. Hoar is industrious and Mr. Evarts is not so industrious as he might be if he were younger and of a different temperament. He would not do anything that did not appear to be absolutely necessary, and one thing that Mr. Hoar came to think he would never do was to call a meeting of the library committee.

One day Evarts and Hoar met by accident in the committee room. Mr. Hoar, in his querulous way, said to Mr. Evarts, "Look here, Evarts, when you get ready to call a meeting of the committee on the library I wish you would be kind enough to notify my executives." Mr. Evarts kept on reading his paper for a moment, and then replied, in his driest and most deliberate tone, "Nothing will afford me greater pleasure." Mr. Hoar did not pursue the subject further.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Embraced the Opportunity. "Well, good night, Miss A.—," said a young man, the other evening, to a Doughty girl whom he was visiting; "and it is better for me to go. I feel certain that if I stay two minutes longer I shall be indiscreet enough to kiss you." "Well, good night, Mr. F.—," replied the girl; "oh, by the way," she added, "I want to show you my new sachet bag before you go. It will only take a couple of minutes." It is only necessary to state that the young man in question is the possessor of a bright intellect, and he quickly embraced the situation, and we can further assert that the girl was in it.—Binghamton Republican.

Honor to Whom Honor is Due.

Mrs. Jinks—Our woman's rights society is going to erect a monument to Queen Isabella. We hold that America owes its discovery to a woman; for had it not been for Isabella Columbus would not have been furnished with ships and sailors.

Mr. Winks—America owes more to another woman than to Queen Isabella.

Mrs. Jinks—Indeed! What other woman?

Mr. Winks—Old Mrs. Columbus. Had it not been for her there would have been no Christopher.—N. Y. Weekly.

Matrimonial Item.

There is some talk of divorce suits among the colored aristocracy of Austin. A few weeks ago Deacon Snodgrass sat in a trembling voice in the bewitching Mrs. Snowball, who was boiling soap.

"Lately woman! Jess lemme taste dose lubly lips. I only wants to find out if dey has as much dop as my wife's lips."

"Ef dat's all yer wants ter know, Jess ax my husband. He's allers a-kissin' yer wife's mouf. I reckon he oughter know," replied Mrs. Snowball.—Texas Siftings.

Enterprising. Dime Museum Visitor (to Bearded Lady)—I say, mum, wouldn't you like to turn a good penny by carrying a little side line?

Bearded Lady—Well, what is it?

Dime Museum Visitor—It's just this; you'd be just as big a curiosity in a mustache and burlesque. Shave your chin and take an agency to boom Lather's shaving soap. I'm Lather, and I can fix you out good.—Puck.

Narrow Escapes. "I was told today that a couple of burglars tried to rob Jay Gould's safe the other night, and that they actually got in among his railroad securities."

"Were they discovered?"

"No, they were glad to get away alive. The water was very deep, and it seems that neither of them could swim."—Jury.

Good Form. "Chawley is so well bwd that he wouldn't eat an omelette unless he had an omelette spoon."

"Indeed! Well, I know one thing he would do. He would imitate his employer's writing on a check."

"Well, but that wouldn't be ill bwd, you know."—West Shore.

His Modest Lunch. Glanders (after a careful study of the bill of fare)—I see you have green trout soup and haunch of venison to-day, waiter.

Waiter—Yes, sir.

Glanders—Just so. Then you may bring me a cup of coffee and a tooth-pick.—Judge.

That Was It. "Mr. Spigitt made a sneak for home about ten o'clock," said Miss Bleecker. "He constructed a servile departure for his domicile at that hour, did he?" replied Miss South-Church, of Boston.—Judge.

A MERE MATTER OF FORM. Bertie (soil).—Oh, now I know why ma said Mr. Courtney Swift was a good match for sister Amy.—Puck.

Another Brute. Husband (in a voice of suppressed wrath)—Did that new girl make this cake?

Wife—I made it myself.

Husband—Er—at's excellent, my dear, excellent; but let's save it until your mother and sister are here to help enjoy it.—Good News.

Liked It Turned Down. "I'm going to turn out this gas," said the old man, coming into the room where sat his daughter and her young man.

"Thanks," said the unabashed young man, "I was just going to do it myself."—Boston Herald.

Hacked Him. Victim (after being shaved)—How long have you been at this business?

Barber—Only a short time. Just thought I'd take a hack at it.

Victim (feeling his face)—That's about what you've done.—Boston Herald.

A Logical Conclusion. Jack—I want to marry a woman who does not consider marriage the chief end and aim of existence.

Dick—I suppose you want to marry a married woman, then.—Munsey's Weekly.

Influence Somewhere. No stream from its source flows seaward, how lonely so ever its course. But what some land is gladden'd. No star ever rose And set without influence somewhere. Who knows What earth peels from earth's lowest crevices? No life Can be pure in its purpose and strong in its strife. And all life not be purer and stronger thereby. The spirits of just men made perfect on high. The army of martyrs who stand by the Throne And gaze into the face that makes glorious their own. Knows this surely at last. Honest love, honest sorrow, Honest work for the day, honest hope for the morrow—Are these worth nothing more than the hand they make weary. The heart they have sadden'd, the life they leave dreary? Hush! the sevenfold heavens to the voice of the spirit Echo: He that o'ercometh shall all things inherit.

—Owen Meredith.

The One Gray Hair. The wisest of the wise looked pretty listless. And love to hear them told: Don't tell that Solomon As much as my king. Some in his youth, and more when he grew old. I never sat among The choir of Wisdom's song: Yet pretty lies I loved. And while their fingers deftly move their eyes are fast and there. They tell this curious thing, besides, of the patient, phidling weaver: He works on the wrong side evermore, but works for the right side ever. It is only when the weaving stops, and the web is loosed and turned. That he sees his real handiwork—that his marvelous skill is learned. Ah, the sight of its delicate beauty, how it pays him for all his cost! No rarer, daintier work than his was ever done by the loom. Then the master brings him golden hire, and giveth him a praise as well. And how he, the heart of the weaver is no tongue but his own can tell. The years of man are the looms of God, let down from the place of the sun. Wherein we are weaving ever till the mystic web is done. Weaving blindly, but weaving surely, each for himself his fate; We may not see how the right side looks, we can only weave and wait. But, looking above for the pattern, no weaver hath need to fear. Only let him look clear into heaven—the Perfect Pattern is there. If he keeps the face of the Saviour forever and away in sight. His toil shall be sweeter than honey, his weaving is sure to be right. And when the work is ended, and the web is turned and shown, He shall hear the voice of the Master; it shall say to him, "Well done!" And the wise and winged angels of heaven, to beat him thrice shall come down. And God shall give him gold for his hire—not coin, but a glowing crown! —Anon G. Chester.

SAY IT'S ALL RIGHT.

Praise for the Gazette from Papers About the State.

"IT IS NEWSY AND WIDE AWAKE."

This is the General Opinion, and Its Expression Takes Flattering Form—How the Change in Appearance Strikes Journalistic Eyes.

Milton Junction News: The Janesville Daily Gazette appeared in a new dress on Monday of this week, and will be arrayed in the same becoming apparel in the weekly issues of that stalwart journal. The quality, quantity and arrangements of the contents of the paper indicate that the publishers are on the alert for that which makes a paper valuable alike to proprietors and patrons; and the assurance that the new order of things is the result of renewed prosperity will be an occasion for congratulation by the many friends of the Gazette.

La Crosse Republican and Leader: The Janesville Daily Gazette, always one of the most vigorous and readable papers in the state, greeted an appreciative public Monday in a handsome new dress of brevity type and a new style of "make-up." If the new dress, as well as the change in the paper as the Gazette does with the public, our contemporary will not be obliged to "change" again in a century.

Fond du Lac Reporter: Spickily and spanly, so to speak, The Janesville Gazette shows up sweetly, with a typographical gown worthy of a Worth, in a mechanical manner. Were the Rock county representative of republican politics a little less of a partisan publication, we might spell the fashionable criterion with a lower case w. All the same, be more politically virtuous, and consequently more conscientiously happy.

Darlington Journal: The Janesville Gazette appeared on Monday in a handsome new dress of new "harness," and is now one of the nearest looking papers that comes to our table, as well as one of the most valued. The past year has been one of the most prosperous in the Gazette's history, and it was doubtless made so by Manager Bliss's correct business methods. May the paper continue to flourish, world without end.

Edgerton Reporter: The Janesville Daily Gazette has been dressed out in a new type and looks so neat and trim that we hardly recognized it when it came to our table last Monday. We like the cut of the clothes and the fit of them too, and a handsome looking sheet is not published in all the interior. The Gazette is improving all around, a fact The Reporter is willing to concede.

Beloit Free Press: The Janesville Gazette presented itself to its patrons Monday in a spick-span new dress from top to toe. In addition to its usual features the Gazette will hereafter publish special telegraph news. Evidently the Gazette is prospering.

Milton Telephone: The Janesville Gazette says that "last year was one of the most prosperous in its history," and on the strength of it has put on a much needed new dress of type. The paper now presents a quite handsome and "cityfied" appearance.

Whitewater Register: The Janesville Gazette came out on Monday in a handsome new dress and showed marked improvement in other respects. We are pleased to see such manifestations of prosperity in our neighbor's household.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: The daily Janesville Gazette is out in a new dress and a new heading. The paper is certainly better looking and it deserves a liberal support.

Rockford Republican: The Janesville Gazette has donned a new dress, and it looks newer than ever, and even more prosperous and metropolitan.

Evansville Review: The Daily Gazette comes out with a new dress, new makeup, and is one of the brightest and newest papers in the state.

Beloit Citizen: The Janesville Gazette came out last Monday in a new dress. The appearance of the columns is materially improved.

Evansville Tribune: The Janesville Gazette comes out to-day in an entirely new dress and looks very neat and tasteful.

Racine Times: The Janesville Gazette is out in a handsome new dress, and looks improved accordingly.

"COUNTY FAIR" BOYS RACE FOR $10.

Two Theatrical Jockeys Give Main Street a Lively Run.

People stood on the sidewalk on South Main street this afternoon and gazed in open-mouthed wonder, at two trim-built race horses carrying shoddy jockeys, came down the street with a rush. It was a neck and neck race with the first two, with the third horse rapidly closing on the two leaders. They went down Main street like the wind, and when they stopped it was because the man on the third horse had one of them by the bridle. The two on the two leading horses were John Phillips and J. T. Mackey while the man who rode the third horse was J. F. Hanna, manager of the County Fair company.

Phelps and Mackey are as jealous of their respective horses as all good jockeys should be. As they led their horses out of the car this morning, Mackey boasted that his horse could beat anything in Janesville.

"Except my horse," chimed in Phillips. "I don't except anything," replied Mackey.

"Got $10 that says you can beat me?"

"Should think I had."

"Put it up."

"All right. But look out; here comes Hanna."

And that was why they raced. Manager Hanna doesn't encourage spending the horses on city streets, so they waited until he dropped the whip for a moment and then pulled the whip.

"We will have to try this again," said one as they finished. "This is a tie."

"Not to-day," said the manager, "the authorities will have us arrested for fast driving."

And there it stands.

BIGGEST PICNIC IN THE STATE.

HIS NECK HUNG ON WIRES.

Doctors Put Silver Strands Around a Would-Be Suicide's Windpipe.

Anthony Warren, a farm hand living north of Evansville, slashed his throat with a razor until the windpipe was nearly severed. Doctors have inserted four silver wires in the neck to hold the windpipe in place. Warren is 26 years of age, and it is thought that family difficulties led to the rash act. He will recover.

A SORE ARM GOOD AS BANK STOCK.

Rock County Housewives Deceived By A Wicked Young Man.

A healthy young man played the "sore arm" game on sympathetic housewives in Johnston Wednesday and Thursday. He was trying, he claimed, to get money to have his arm treated by a physician. All that ailed it was that he had blistered it until a sickening sore was the result. This was what he traveled on. A fresh blister every day replenished his stock in trade.

CHAPIN IS INSANE.

A Council of Physicians Commit Him to Mendota.

HIS MIND IS FAR FROM CKEAR.

Treatment in the Madison Asylum Will, It Is Hoped, Benefit Him and Make Him Able To Tell of His Strange Experience.

E. J. Chapin is insane.

This was the decision reached this afternoon by a council of physicians.

Monday he will be taken to the Mendota asylum.

This morning Judge Sale was appealed to and named a council consisting of Dr. Joe Whiting, Dr. Henry Palmer and Dr. J. B. Whiting, to examine into the mysterious stranger's sanity.

They made a thorough investigation decided that he was temporarily insane, and this afternoon an order directing his removal to the Mendota asylum for treatment was issued.

WAR ON CHATHAM STREET.

Property Owners Take Sides on the Grading Question.

The common council will have a difficult problem to settle at their meeting Monday evening it being the matter of grading Chatham street in the First ward. The papers in the case have been filled with the city clerk and will be presented by him to the council for consideration. It appears filled that there is a division of opinion among the Chatham street owners on the question or necessity for grading the street. No sooner had the petition for grading the street been placed in the hands of the city clerk than a protest came following after. The petition for grading is signed by thirty-nine property owners on the street, and bears an affidavit that a majority of the property owners petition for the grade. The protest is signed by thirty-four property owners, who insist that there is no present necessity to burden the property with the expense of grading. It is claimed by the opponents of the grade that the matter has been misrepresented in that it was stated that the grade would not cost over five dollars a lot, while careful estimates place the cost at a much higher figure.

The matter will probably be disposed of by referring the documents to the highway, street and bridge committee, for examination and report.

COCAL CHURCH NOTES.

The Drummer's Little Story.
"I never felt myself floored but once in my life," said the drummer, with the air of a man who thinks he has something worth the telling. "It was down in Maine," he continued, after waiting long enough to test curiosity on an edge. "I'd been living on railway sandwiches for a week, and I just longed for a square meal. Well, we had to stop at a way station for a couple of hours on account of a hot box or something of that sort, and one of the brakemen put me on to what he said was a first class restaurant. I looked it up and ordered a steak."

"The steak came, but it was a disappointment. I sawed away at it till my arms ached. It was out of the question to chew the small bits I tore off from it, though I tried hard. I gave it up finally, and as I paid my score I said incidentally, 'That's about the toughest eating I ever experienced.' He took the money, swept it into the drawer, and without a quiver he coolly remarked, 'You don't seem to consider how much good it'll do you in the way of exercise.'"—Boston Transcript.

Teachers of American.
Teachers of English are plentiful in this day and generation, but teachers of American are to be met with only at rare intervals. In this city, however, there are several of the latter who command good prices for their services, and who find ready employment at all times. Foreigners who have been taught English in the schools of their native land find themselves completely at sea on their arrival here, and many of them who can afford it employ teachers to instruct them in learning the peculiar idioms employed by the Americans. The localism especially they find most perplexing to master, and the teacher must be well up on all the mannerisms and slang expressions of the day. The bishop of the Russian church in this city has a young lady employed to teach him American, and he finds it a most necessary part of his education. —San Francisco Call.

MR. MILLS TALKS TO MEN.

An Address To the Steamer Sex Alone.

This morning an audience composed entirely of men listened to Rev. B. Fay Mills' address to men only at the Court Street church, and at 3:30 this afternoon a young lady's meeting was held at the Baptist church. At 7:30 this evening a meeting of Sunday school officers and teachers will be held at the First M. E. church.

An audience that filled the Congregational church to the doors listened to Mr. Mills' persuasive eloquence last evening. The choir, under the leadership of Mr. Greenwood, furnished inspiring vocal music. Mr. Mills preached from the text "Thy Heart Is Not Right in the Sight of God." The sermon was a powerful effort and was listened to with marked attention.

The speaker held that the man shall be judged by what he is and that the feeling in his heart made him what he was. The man who could not give his business to God had a divided heart, was vicious in the sight of God. A man who did not give his whole heart to God, who was only half-hearted, was wrong in the sight of God. The sermon made a great impression on the hearers. Mr. Greenwood sang "Where Will You Spend Eternity," in a way that reached the heart of the audience, after which the ushers distributed cards among the audience which many signed, thereby showing that the inspiring eloquence of the revivalist had touched the hearts of many.

BATTERED HIM FOR BEER MONEY.
A Brakeman Roughly Handled by Three Toughs Last Night.

Brakeman John McConnell of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road, was set upon and roughly handled by three "Five Point" toughs last evening, because he refused to give them twenty-five cents to buy beer. One of his assailants struck him with a stone, battering him badly about the head.

McConnell lives at Monroe and is a brakeman on Conductor Dunwiddie's train, which leaves Janesville at 7:50 o'clock. He was walking through the yards, when one of the trio of toughs asked him for the money.

"I have no money for you," replied McConnell.

Almost before McConnell ceased speaking one of the trio struck him on the head with a rock knocking him down. Then they all jumped on him, and but for the timely appearance of help, would have undoubtedly hurt McConnell seriously.

McConnell says his assailants were John Griffin, better known as "Dab," John Connors and Thomas Nash. All of them are men of unsavory police court reputation, who would hesitate at nothing. McConnell swore out warrants for their arrest.

IT IS A BIG CLASS.

Sup't. Cooley Completes His List of 1891 Graduates.

MISS LOU FENTON IN THE LEAD.

The Class Party Will Be Done Away With, and a Concert Given by the Imperial Quartette Will Take Its Place in the Evening.

The senior class of the high school are arranging the details for commencing exercises, which take place on June 19, probably at the Myers Opera house. The class this year is the largest with one exception in the history of the school, and consists of sixteen members.

"At the next meeting of the board of education," said Superintendent Cooley, "I shall recommend the following pupils as having attained the necessary standing for graduation and ask that diplomas be given them. I have arranged the names in alphabetical order: Thurston Blakely, Catharine Cantillon, Jennie Cady, Louise Fenton, Anna Gagan, Margaret Geddes, Ida Hatherell, Lucella Hill, Phoebe Lamphier, Belle Loeckes, Alfred McCulloch, Eloise Palmer, Jennie Peterson, Marion Spencer, Martin Trulson, Roscoe Whiffin. It is a good class, and I am glad they are making a departure from the old custom. The class will give up their party in the evening, and instead will give a concert, having secured the Imperial Quartette of Chicago for the occasion. This is wholly a class matter, and the entertainment is one of real merit and should be patronized to the full capacity of the opera house. I expect the members of the class will soon make the concert popular, as they intend to appoint each member a committee of one to make it a success. The expense will be no great matter, but the class desire only to save themselves the price."

"It has not been decided yet who wins the twenty-five dollar prize offered by Hon. Ogden H. Fethers, but it is generally conceded by the class that Miss Louise Fenton will prove the winner. By the way, I understand that Mr. Fethers will withdraw his liberal proposition after this commencement. I wish some other man would renew the prize."

The young ladies of the senior class have been ransacking the dry goods establishment for some time selecting wardrobes for June 19. They are very quiet about it and it is not yet known just how just they will appear on the rostrum.

These false assertions being calculated to injure our business, we hereby give public notice that any person circulating or repeating such statements, or anything to a similar effect, will be prosecuted by us to the full extent of the law.
